

Consent is more than

Consent is:

Enthusiastic

Wanting to do something and not feeling like you have to do something. The absence of 'no' is not a 'yes'.

Informed

All parties need to know what they are consenting to.

Free and voluntary

A person should never feel forced or pressured to do something they do not want to.

Continuous

A 'yes' to one activity is not a 'yes' to everything. Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

Sober and conscious

It is not given if someone is incapacitated by drugs or alcohol, asleep or unconscious.

Clear and safe

There should not be any room for doubts when it comes to consent. Before you ask, make a safe space for a 'no'.
